

If Tolerated Can Become an Order

John W. Studebaker, former commissioner of education, complains in Washington dispatches published this morning that "censorship" by Oscar Ewing, President Truman's aide and federal security administrator, has prevented the United States Office of Education from telling public school teachers how to "expunge Communism."

Regarding Studebaker's charge the Associated Press reported: "He said the ruling came on a proposed speech by a member of the education office staff to a group of Massachusetts high school principals on 'Teaching Zeal for American Democracy.' Studebaker said it was ruled that the task of listening to communists should be left to the State Department and the FBI instead of to the education division."

But let's stop right here and examine the whole picture. Mr. Studebaker may be a thoroughly honest and sincere person, but he is—or was at the time—a federal office-holder, and in America we do not accept advice from federal bureaus on controversial matters that are to be decided by the people themselves.

Mr. Studebaker ought to wipe his nose and go home. Mr. Ewing and the federal security administration aren't entirely right, but they are certainly less wrong than Mr. Studebaker. They are right in overruling the education office's notion that Washington is going to tell the people instead of the people telling Washington. That they aren't entirely right is due to the inference that the propaganda content of public speeches is a matter reserved to the State Department and the FBI rather than the U.S. Office of Education.

Americans will do well to weigh the words of their own officials no less than they weigh the speeches of foreigners. For once you begin to listen to government advice out of Washington you have started on the road to dictatorship—when "advice" overnight turns into an "order."

Today's subject matter, Communism, is incidental. Americans can be depended on to decide this for themselves—if they are given all the facts.

Particularly is this true where the public schools are concerned. I call to the attention of the public school teachers of our own Hope area the fact that this Studebaker charge is a matter of national importance. It might become a regular and inescapable piece of tyranny should America go ahead, as some educators think it ought to, and set up a full-fledged federal education system with a cabinet member.

Today's target is Communism, which we are agreed we are against. But we are agreed we are against it, not by government edict, tomorrow, should federal office-holders be encouraged to do our thinking for us we might easily find ourselves thinking away, traveling in an entirely different direction, causing a federal edict to be issued.

Liberty, said Jim Reed of Missouri, is the right to be wrong.

Both Parties, Election-Minded, Shy Away From Price Controls

By SA. BURTON HART

The opening of the special session of Congress justified the worst fears of pessimists. The members spent their first day warning up for a name-calling contest. Republicans and Democrats alike began laying the groundwork to blame each other for everything that is wrong.

There is what many feared, that is why many, who regretted the vital things left undone when Congress adjourned for the conventions, could see little good coming out of this session. They felt that both sides would be too busy jockeying for votes in November, to do anything about inflation, housing, or any of the other pressing matters that require attention.

The Democrats urge that the GOP platform commits the congressional majority to what President Truman asks. Unless the majority acts, they say, it will condemn itself as insincere or ineffective.

But the Republicans claim that the session was called for purely political purposes, to put them on the spot, with full knowledge that no sound action could be taken in the heat of a bitter presidential campaign.

It is both charitable and reasonable to suppose that both parties are against inflation, for adequate housing, in favor of education. But in both cases, the parties would prove Social Security would give a break to acceptable displaced persons, would like to see civil rights protected for all Americans.

Obviously, if either party was capable of producing a program that would roll back the cost of living, and at the same time leave wages and profits and farm incomes up where they are, that party would love to do so.

Candidates to Speak on Same
Platform Tonight

By DOB BROWN

Little Rock, Aug. 2 — (UP)—A replay of the Sid McMath-James Mackrell cross-town rivalry was on deck today as Arkansas' candidates for governor prepared to move into Fordyce tonight.

Both McMath — who led the ticket in last Tuesday's first primary — and his opponent, Jack Holt, will make simultaneous bids for Mackrell last week. The Little Rock radio evangelist will accompany Holt to Fordyce as his campaign manager.

Mackrell carried the county in the first primary — racking up 1,017 votes to 675 for McMath and 470 for Holt.

This will be the second time in the campaign that McMath and Mackrell have tangled in cross-town rallies. Both appeared in Hot Springs on the eve of the first election, bidding for Garland county's vote.

However, despite his predictions of the county, Mackrell received only 1,641 votes in the Spin while McMath garnered 4,801 and Holt received 2,195.

Holt — who remained in his headquarters today — said his speech tonight will be broadcast statewide.

McMath spoke in DeQueen this afternoon and will be in Osceola tomorrow night.

Both candidates reported that supporters crowded headquarters yesterday afternoon — with McMath's group moving into the Hotel Marlton, ball-room for speeches by the candidate and various leaders.

Speakers included State Rep. Hal Moody of Walnut Ridge, a worker in Horace Thompson's headquarters before the first primary, and the Rev. W. B. Maddox of White County. The Rev. Maddox, who said he aided "Uncle Mac" Mackrell in gaining his largest rural county vote, declared that Mackrell had "sold out" to Holt.

"I want to tell you I have made a mistake," Rev. Maddox said. "I want to confess that I have listened to Mr. Mackrell ever since he went on the air. I supported him and was conscientious in doing so."

Brother Maddox said Mac has let "I am just as much against him today as a man can be. He never will get another one of my dollars. I never again will be present at one of his concerts."

Earlier the racial issue was injected into the campaign as Holt made a determined bid for eastern Arkansas votes polled by Thompson last week.

Speaking in Leachville and Bradley, Holt declared that the Negro vote in Arkansas enabled McMath to lead the ticket. And he "defied" McMath to "tell how you stand on civil rights."

He waved issues of the State Press, Little Rock Negro news, and front pages of his editorial and front pages as proof that it had endorsed McMath.

"If the people of Arkansas are going to sleep on election day and let the Negro voters get out and elect them a governor, I don't want to be a governor," he said.

Answering Holt, McMath declared, "I have made no bid or deal for the votes of citizens according to race, creed or color. I have asked for the votes and support of all decent law-abiding American citizens residing in Arkansas."

And he added, "I will not stoop to demagogic appeal to racial hatreds and prejudices to get votes and win this governor's race. I recognize more than Mr. Holt that we have problems peculiar to our own state and section. These problems can best be solved through friendly cooperation of all races and creeds."

Hiroshima to
Be Host to Peace Festival

Hiroshima, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Plans were underway today for a big "peace festival" marking the third anniversary of the atom bomb explosion.

Mayor Shinzo Hamai will address the mayors of the world's largest cities for funds to build a memorial hall near the spot where the atom bomb exploded.

However, the exact spot isn't available. It has been earmarked for Kikoshi Nikkawa, most severely injured survivor of the explosion.

Nikkawa wants to set up a souvenir shop on the spot following his release from a Red Cross hospital where he has been for three years.

Machinery Is
Started to End
Filibuster

Washington, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) filed today a motion designed to end the Senate's current southern filibuster, provided it can muster a two-thirds vote.

First, Wherry sought an agreement that the Senate take up at 4 p. m. (EST) today and anti-poll tax bill. For two days, Southerners have been taking against his motion to consider the bill.

Senator Russell then filed his cloture motion. Southerners have contended this debate-limitation proposal cannot be used against a motion to take up legislation, but they did not immediately object to his filing.

Shortly afterward, however, Russell raised the question of whether an attempt to shut off debate on a motion is proper under parliamentary rules.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), presiding, told the Senate he was ready to rule on Russell's challenge, but opposing sides then began an argument over the point of order. That held up Vandenberg's decision.

Adoption of cloture to shut off debate on a motion to take up a bill to set a new precedent for the Senate.

Even if those favoring the anti-poll tax bill are able to muster the necessary two-thirds vote on Wherry's motion, this would not automatically bring about a vote on passage of the measure itself.

The objecting Southerners then could begin speaking at length against approval of the bill.

Twenty-two senators, six more than the required 16, signed a petition for the vote on cloture moved by Wherry.

Four of them were Democrats: Barkley (Ky.), Pepper (Ida.), McGrath (R.I.), and Green (Rt.).

Republican signers were Wherry, Taft (Ohio) Knowland (Calif.), McCarthy (Wis.), Flanders (Vt.), Ives (N.Y.), Ferguson (Mich.), Cordon (Or.), Capper (Kas.), Jenner (Ind.), McNamara (Neb.), Smith (N.H.), McClellan (Iowa), Lodge (Mass.), Kern (Mo.), Morse (Ore.), Martin (Pa.) and Saltonstall (Mass.).

Search Starts
for Plane With 52 Aboard

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

Paris, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Sea and air units searched the mid-Atlantic some 1,400 miles west of the African coast today for a huge, six-engined French flying boat missing with 52 persons aboard.

The plane, a Latécoere 631, the largest commercial airliner in the world, was last heard from at 4 p. m. EDT Saturday. It disappeared in the sea on a flight from Port de France, Martinique, in the French West Indies, to Port Etienne, French West Africa. Port Etienne is north of Dakar.

Air France said the missing plane carried 40 passengers and a crew of 12. No passenger list was available in Paris and it was not known if any notables were aboard.

French naval authorities ordered a warship and naval planes from Dakar to search for the missing airliner and ships at sea were notified to be on the lookout.

Air France sent two long range planes to join the search, one a Latécoere 631, a sister ship to the missing plane, and the other an Air France Constellation.

The U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Campbell, on patrol duty in the mid-Atlantic, notified the U. S. Embassy in Paris.

Congress Has
No Plan in Sight

Washington, Aug. 2 — (AP)—The special session of Congress limped into its second week today with no anti-inflation legislation clearly in sight and the civil rights filibuster plaguing all.

Their crow's foot, stolen by a double-barreled hunt for Communists in the government, the two houses still awaited final agreement by Republican leaders on a cost of living program which won't include the price controls or rationing power President Truman has asked.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) tried meanwhile to stir the GOP leadership into action on housing. No. 2 on Mr. Truman's list in his call for the "turnip day" session.

McCarthy wrote Senator Taft (R-Ohio), House Speaker Martin Dies (Tex.) and others suggesting a conference to work out a compromise for the Taft-Elender-Wagner bill passed by the Senate but stuck in House committee.

The top leadership didn't look like it would be stirred on this issue, however. It seemed preoccupied with the problem of deciding whether to give Mr. Truman the installment buying and bank credit curbs he asked — and nothing else.

West Diplomats
May See Stalin
Tonight

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 2 — (AP)—Ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France prepared this afternoon to visit the Kremlin tonight. The diplomats are expected to be invited, either singly or in a group, to an interview with Prime Minister Stalin.

The western representatives are Walter Bedell Smith of the U. S., Frank Roberts, special British ambassador, and Yves Chaigneau of France.

They are to present the latest approach of the western powers to the Berlin blockade and German questions.

It was apparent at the American, British and French embassies this morning that there is a chance this morning that the three envoys were standing by for some developments.

The American embassy would make no statement on the four-over talks.

But this reporter learned that there have been diplomatic developments here which have definitely contributed toward easing the tense international situation. (This dispatch did not give further details of the developments.)

It was learned in authoritative quarters that progress already has been made among the four great powers.

London, Aug. 2 — (AP)—The London Star said today that western power diplomats will see Prime Minister Stalin tonight in Moscow to discuss the Berlin crisis and other international affairs.

The newspaper said American, French and British envoys there will try "to determine the objectives of Russian foreign policy. It added:

"They believe it is vital in the present state of international relations that there should be no misunderstanding about the foreign policy of the major powers. In this spirit Stalin will be clearly told the attitude of the western nations."

The British Press Association said a meeting of Stalin with the western envoys is "expected" to take place tonight and "may lead to statements of the utmost importance."

The agency said that if the discussions are successful they could lead to a meeting of President Truman, Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and French Premier Andre Mitterand.

The Star said the "sole purpose of the present Moscow discussions is to discover whether a basis exists for four-power negotiations on all outstanding European problems."

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin indicated in the House of Commons last week that this line will be taken in the negotiations.

"The object of diplomatic steps now being taken," he said, "is to clarify our position."

Bevin said the Western Allies want to "ascertain" if there could be a meeting of the four great powers to discuss the Berlin situation and "may lead to peace and security in Europe for us all."

A spokesman at the United States embassy said "our people are saying anything. All information must come from Washington."

Texas Dixiecrats
Making Plans to Attack Jester

Austin, Tex., Aug. 2 — (AP)—Texas Dixiecrats are making plans for a direct attack on Gov. Beauford Jester because he opposes a state-wide referendum on the presidency.

Lloyd Price of Fort Worth, a States' Rights, said yesterday he was drafting a brief that would be submitted at a meeting of the Democratic state committee here Aug. 8.

Price said State Democratic Chairman Robert W. Calvert, Hillsboro, and House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham would be criticized in the brief.

"We will say that Calvert, Jester and Rayburn are disloyal to the rights and interest of their own state," said Price.

The anti-Truman faction was victorious in three of Texas' four biggest county conventions Saturday.

They are demanding that the Democratic state committee let the people vote on Truman in the Aug. 28 runoff primary. The question would be whether Texas' 23 electoral votes would be cast for Democratic or Republican.

They should be pledged to Truman or Gov. Thurmond of South Carolina.

Congress Is Wasting Time
Porter Charges

Washington, Aug. 2 — (AP)—Paul Porter, the administration's anti-inflation chief, said today Congress has been wasting "much precious time" in its consideration of President Truman's economic program.

"Perhaps it is Utopian to assume that there is any prospect of eliminating partisanship from the economic issues now before Congress," Porter told members of the Senate Banking committee.

In a prepared statement the former officer of price administration chief said:

"For the past week efforts have been made by representatives of the executive branch of the government to present to committees of Congress facts about inflation and high prices.

"I think it is appropriate to report to this committee that in my judgement much precious time has been wasted. At least during my own experience on the other side of the capital, committee consideration was confined principally to abstract economic seminars, attempts to fix blame, and sheer politics.

Only two members of the Senate committee were present when Porter started his testimony. They were Senators Capehart (R-Ind.), acting chairman in the absence of Senator Tobey (R-NH), and Cain (R-Wash.).

Capehart observed that no Democratic members of the committee were there "yet Congress has been called back by the president into extraordinary session" to consider price controls. He added:

"I would think members of his own party would be interested."

Porter said there is obviously room for differences of opinion as to causes of high prices and inflation and the remedies to be pursued.

"However, I submit to this committee that the time for post-mortems and finger-pointing has expired," he said. "The president has submitted specific recommendations for immediate action. I do not appear to advocate this program as a partisan."

"I am not now concerned as to where responsibility lies for the immediate and disastrous threat of change over every American citizen. I am concerned only with whether measures can be agreed upon to attempt to do something about the situation, a crisis which cannot tolerate inaction."

Communists Put in New Hungarian
President

Budapest, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Hungarian party leaders have agreed on the selection of Arpad Szakaszi as president to succeed Zoltan Tildy and he will be elected formally by parliament tomorrow or the next day, it was reported today.

Szakaszi, chairman of the Communist-controlled United Workers' Party, was approved yesterday. Government officials claimed there would be no cabinet changes, but observers believed many members of today's party, the Smallholders, would be ousted.

Town Carnival Breaks Up in Free-for-All

ML Olive, Ill., Aug. 2 — (UP)—Part of ML Olive's 2,559 residents rioted today that the excitement on Main street yesterday morning couldn't be called a riot. No, siree, "it was just a free-for-all," said one of the rioters. With the result that about 100 people wound up in the hospital and nine employees of the United Exhibition Shows landed in jail.

For three days ML Olive had celebrated its annual homecoming. A carnival, sponsored by veterans organizations, lined Main street.

Everything went fine until the wee hours Sunday morning when a young fellow from White City got to arguing with a gaming concessionaire. The boy complained the wheel wasn't on the up and up.

"Then," somebody yelled, "Hey, racket," the ancient call for battle between townsmen and townfolk.

For about 20 minutes, townfolk and show people slugged and wrestled each other until Sheriff Carl Scheller arrived from Carlinville with deputies.

By then, tent stakes and other debris littered Main street.

"But it really wasn't a riot," Scheller said. "It was just a nice old-fashioned free-for-all. The only thing that spoiled it was that somebody got tough and sent a CHAIN chain."

We're trying to find out who that so-and-so was. It was the chain that did most of the damage.

Nine at St. Francis hospital. Litchfield said the eight townspeople were released after treatment of their cuts and bruises. The nine shown were to be arraigned for disorderly conduct today.

The carnival, meanwhile, was ordered to stick around until the affair was investigated. It looked like the tents might be standing on the street for the rest of the week.

German Women Sent to Salt Mines Die

Hamburg, Aug. 2 — (UP)—More than 50 per cent of the German women sent to the Siberian salt mines by conquering Russians died of hunger and exhaustion, returning prisoners reported today.

Three hundred and seventy of the emaciated women — the first group of female prisoners to be returned from Russia — said they were sent into the mine to work alongside men.

They arrived in the British zone yesterday with burlap bags slung around their legs and feet. British and German Red Cross workers immediately undertook their rehabilitation.

All were reported suffering from malnutrition and exhaustion.

The women were captured by the Russians in 1945. They said they had to produce four and one half tons of coal daily. Their pay, they said, was not sufficient to buy food and many died from hunger and exhaustion in the cold and damp coal pits.

bassy that it was steaming to the last known position of the Giant Sky Queen.

Air France said the missing plane left Martinique at 10:50 a.m. EDT Saturday and was scheduled to arrive at Port Etienne at 9 p.m. It was last heard from at 8 p.m. when it gave its position and said it was well.

The position given by the plane was about 1,400 miles short of its destination in an area some 650 to 900 nautical miles northwest of the Cape Verde Islands.

Should all aboard be lost, it would be the worst disaster on the transatlantic run and the third worst aviation disaster in history. Fifty-three persons were killed, each of two air crashes last year, a Douglas DC-4 crash in Maryland in May and another DC-4 crash in the mountains of Colombia, South America, last February.

The giant flying boat is the largest commercial airliner now in use, with a takeoff weight of some 83 tons. It is 141 feet long and has a wingspread of 186 feet. It is powered by six 1,600-horsepower engines, giving it an effective range of about 3,400 miles at cruising speeds of 200 miles an hour.

The planes were developed by the French before the war and five of them have been put in service by Air France since the liberation. However, they have been a headache to their owners from the first.

The first Latécoere 631, christened the "Lionel Du Marmier," crashed into a lake in Brazil on its maiden flight. Another crashed on the Normandy coast on a test flight, killing the entire crew. Others also have had minor accidents.

The Republicans got ready for formal moves in the Senate against a Southern Democratic filibuster which has tied up a bill to ban state poll taxes in federal elections.

The move, involving a try at limiting debate, were expected to fail. By Wednesday, GOP leaders may set the bill back on the shelf until next January or try for a compromise putting the poll tax question to the states as a constitutional amendment.

The poll tax action — and what the Republicans decide to do about fighting inflation — will determine whether the special session comes to an end this week or goes over into next.

Taft said he wants the lawmakers to quit by Saturday. But he added it may be August 14 before they can get away.

Japanese Go on Trial for Crimes

Yokohama, Aug. 2 (AP)—Charged with murdering 133 Americans, 16 Japanese went on trial today before a U. S. eighth Army military commission. The group, accused in the wartime "Palawan massacre," includes two former lieutenant generals.

Allied headquarters prosecutors called the massacre in the southern Philippines Dec. 14, 1944, "one of the most heinous and cold-blooded crimes conceived in the minds of so-called civilized men."

This is the story of the massacre as told by American soldiers, sailors and marines, who were captured at Cororog and Basitan, to Palawan to build an airfield. American bombers began attacking the strip. Shortly thereafter, American troops landed on Leyte.

In early December, the Japanese received reports an American naval task force was near Palawan. They feared an American landing, and decided to kill their prisoners so they could not divulge military information.

On Dec. 14, the Japanese sounded a false air raid alarm and herded prisoners into air raid shelters and foxholes. Then the guards splashed gasoline into the shelters and threw in flaming torches and hand grenades.

Americans struggling to escape were shot, bayoneted or cut down with swords or machineguns.

Dewey to Keep Hands Off Session

Washington, Aug. 2 (AP)—GOP Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey may be keeping hands off the special session of Congress personally, but an effective "grape vine" has been set up in his behalf.

The "grapevine," Republican Congressional leaders said today, is Herbert Brownell, Jr., the New York governor's campaign manager.

Brownell has set up headquarters in Washington for the Dewey campaign. He and party leaders on Capitol Hill have been in frequent contact with him.

"Some of us have talked things over personally with Brownell, and others have conversed with him on the telephone," GOP House chief said. "While the Republican steering committee is making the major policy decisions as always, we know what Brownell thinks about them and we assume that he reflects Governor Dewey's sentiments."

"After all," this leader said, "we are trying to bring about Dewey's election as president and it is only good sense to coordinate our actions with his campaign strategy."

Speaker Martin, boss of the House, told newsmen the election of Dewey is part of the GOP Congressional "cause." But Martin said that Dewey has not sought to dictate or even suggest to the leaders what they should do.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate's Republican policy committee, said last week "there has been more or less consultation with Dewey but not details."

That was Taft's explanation, after Senator Robertson (R-Vt.) told newsmen the Ohioan had relayed to a policy committee session advice from Dewey to stay around a week or so and then go home.

Suspected Scientists Back at Work at Atom Plant

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Aug. 2 — (UP)—Two atomic scientists who were suspended during a loyalty check here last May have been "cleared" and are back at work. It was learned today.

B. W. Menke, chief of security for the Atomic Energy Commission, said the scientists returned to work "some weeks ago." He said there have been no other suspensions although loyalty hearings have continued.

Suspension of the two unidentified scientists, brought about by protests by the association of Oak Ridge engineers and scientists that their constitutional rights were being violated.

The association complained particularly that suspected scientists were not allowed to face their accusers or to learn the nature of the charges against them.

Menke said today hearings of the same type given the two accused scientists were still going on here. The scientist is brought before a hearing board composed of representatives of the A-E-C, a person with interests similar to those of the accused, and an outsider, usually an attorney.

NEW YORK STOCKS
New York, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Morning attempts to get ahead failed away in later trading today in the stock market and final prices showed a close mixture of small gains and losses.

In early dealings leading issues managed to get ahead fractions to around a point. Then buying support was lacking and gains were either trimmed or cancelled.

The days operations were conducted in slow-poke fashion. Turnover for the full session ran to around 700,000 shares which would rate the market as one of the slowest of the year.

Concern over what Congress might turn out in the field of inflation controls restrained many traders.

Little Switzerland Getting Ready to Observe Her 657th Independence Anniversary

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Here's wishing many happy returns to Little Switzerland who as this is written is scurrying about in eager preparation for tomorrow's 657th anniversary of the Swiss nation.

Independence day.

This tiny two-acre church built will be peering throughout the nation. There will be religious services of thanks and reconciliation. There will be parades displaying costumes which have come down through the centuries. There will be yodeling and Alpine horn-blowing. And as the shades of night close in about the towering peaks, huge bonfires will leap up from the mountain tops.

Swiss are celebrating the day, while the United States is celebrating the day. During the last war, for instance, more than twenty countries, including the United States, requested such service.

But Switzerland's neutrality is backed by something more concrete than that. Every able bodied male between the ages of 20 and 48 is subject to military service. There is universal military training, and each reservist keeps his rifle and other equipment with him in his home, ready for instant mobilization. It is a kind of minute-army.

Moreover the Swiss have bored into the hearts of their great mountain and created a vast network of forts and tunnels. They thus have created a national redoubt which could be a force challenge to any invading army. I have seen the entrances to some of these cavern-fortresses, and they fairly shut my vulnerability against normal methods of attack.

Communism hasn't bothered Switzerland. The country is prosperous and all classes share in this prosperity.

crs. What appeared to be improved prospects for ironing on the east-west argument over Berlin, on the other hand, were rated as an encouraging factor.

Plymouth oil ran up around 4 points at one time although later backed down from its peak.

A trifle higher were general Motors, Sears Roebuck, AVCO and Dow Chemical, Owens Illinois, and J. C. Penney.

NEW YORK COTTON

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Cotton futures moved lower today under pressure of commission house liquidation and hedging. Failure of the mid-July cotton party to show an advance over the June figures brought out selling, along with the continued favorable prospects for the crop and expectations of a high government cotton forecast on Aug. 9.

Futures closed 75 cents to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

GRAIN AND PROVISION

Chicago, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Grains slid into new low ground in the first few minutes of trading today and spent the rest of the session without doing much of anything.

Selling was heavy at the start. With the exception of September and December wheat, all contracts of major grains reached new seasonal lows. Also making new seasonal lows were all soybeans contracts and all lard except September.

The market steadied after the early selling was out of the way. Increased flour business helped to hold the drop in wheat. Fewer offerings of corn by the country brought a halt in the corn decline. Soybeans and lard rallied strongly on short-covering.

Wheat closed 1-2 - 2-1/2 lower. September $2.22 1-8 - $2.22, corn 1-2 - 1/4 lower, September $1.64 1-2 - 1/4, oats were 3-4 to 1 cent lower, September 71 58 - 3-4, rye 12 lower to 14 higher. December 11 12, and soybeans were unchanged to 2 cents higher.

Cash wheat moved lower with the futures trade today; basis unchanged to 1-2 cent lower; shipping 20,000 bushels; sales 20,000 bushels; receipts 395 cars.

One-Year Degree

William Hamburger, of New York, has earned his bachelor's degree after only one year's studies at the University of Chicago College. The institution permits students to study according to their own speed.

Honors Editor

Honoring the memory of Kansas publisher William Allan White, this 3-cent purple stamp will go on sale July 31. A portrait of the author and editor is the central motif.

Corn was 1-2 to five cents less; basis unchanged to two cents down; bookings 60,000 bushels; shipping sales 10,000 bushels; receipts 174 cars. Oats were unchanged to one cent easier; shipments sales 70,000 bushels; receipts 458 cars. Soybeans receipts were 12 cars.

TO THE CITIZENS OF GARLAND COUNTY:

In fairness to my friends throughout the State I feel compelled to make the following statement: "Many things have been injected into the political campaign, as it relates to Garland County and the Governor's race, by the politicians and their policy makers that make it impossible for me as a Baptist minister in the City of Hot Springs to remain silent."

First of all, when some of the politicians and their platform makers make as their major campaign issue open or restricted gambling or legalized vice they, of their own choosing, enter the field of the work of the ministry and the churches. They have challenged the courage of the ministers of Hot Springs and we have accepted the challenge, and accepted it without fear. It is not a case of the preacher getting into politics. It is a case of the politician entering a field where the preachers and churches have waged a battle through the centuries.

Secondly, in an attempt to counteract the influence of the Hot Springs Ministerial Alliance, these same politicians are bringing into Hot Springs to speak tonight a man who is in the race for Governor, and who was listed and identified by the local papers yesterday, as an ordained Baptist Minister. Such identification was a source of embarrassment to the Baptists of Hot Springs and to the Ministry in general. I am not saying that he is not an ordained Baptist minister, but I am asking what kind of Baptist is he?

I hold in my hand the Southern Baptist Hand Book which lists all of its ordained ministers who serve the 26,000 Southern Baptist Churches and the 6,000,000 members and his name does not appear in the list, and I have here also the Arkansas Baptist Convention's Annual which lists all the ordained ministers of the Arkansas Baptist Convention and his name does not appear in the list. I want our Baptists and our friends all over the state to know that.

He has announced that he will tell the people tonight ten reasons why Sidney McMath will not be elected Governor of Arkansas tomorrow. It does not take ten reasons to state why this man, who identifies himself as an ordained Baptist minister, shall not be elected. One reason will suffice; namely, he is not qualified by any standard of measurement on any basis to serve in that high office.

I am for Sidney McMath because of what he has done in Garland County in his fight against the forces of evil. I am for him because after knowing him personally and observing his work for four and a half years I appreciate him as a christian gentleman, intelligent, honest, sincere and courageous.

I am for him and I want my friends over the State of Arkansas to have this personal testimony, given as the result of personal, first-hand observation. I sincerely believe that Sidney McMath is the only man who has the leadership qualification, the intellectual ability, the moral and spiritual conviction and the physical courage to give to Arkansas the kind of Governor we need in this time of State, National and inter-National crisis.

No Such Thing as Absolute Death

New York, Aug. 2 — (AP)—There probably is no such thing as absolute death, according to studies of heat published today in the scientific journal Physics.

The possibility of absolute death has been a scientific concept of what must happen when all heat vanishes. This occurs at absolute zero, which is 490 below zero Fahrenheit and 273 Centigrade.

At that point all motion was supposed to cease completely. As all substances were chilled closer and closer to absolute zero, even their internal motion, the movement of molecules to for no a ten in a million to and from and the movement of atoms in the molecules became slower and slower.

Helium studies recently made have upset this concept. They indicate that even after all heat is gone to absolute zero there still will be some motion.

Although motion is not of itself life, motion is part of anything that is alive.

The helium studies were described by Dr. Lazio Tisza, a physicist of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They were made at Yale University, in Moscow and in other laboratories.

Helium has been cooled to within four thousandths of one degree of absolute zero. Nothing else has yet gone that low. Even at this incredibly low temperature helium doesn't freeze.

Winter Legumes to Pay Returns in the Fall

Winter legumes seeded in Hempstead county this fall will pay greater returns than ever before in history.

According to County Agent Oliver L. Adams, agricultural nitrogen is likely to be even more difficult to obtain in 1949. Winter legumes will supply a large part of the nitrogen needed for next year's crops in this area. From them farmers can obtain 60 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre.

In addition to supplying the nitrogen needed for good crop yields, legumes prevent erosion and the leaching of plant food. More important, they supply organic matter, which increases the water-holding capacity of soil and reduces drought damage.

Winter legume seed are scarce, states Agent Adams. He advises farmers to get their seed early, before available supplies are exhausted.

Doubt Flies Are Cause of Paralysis

Efforts to abate poliomyelitis epidemics by intensive fly control have given little promise of success or of proving or disproving the proposition that flies are an important means of transmitting poliomyelitis. For the present, it does not appear justified for the Public Health Service or other public health agencies to engage in emergency fly control activities during epidemics of poliomyelitis to learn more about the role of flies in the dissemination of this disease. More exact scientific investigations on this point are necessary.

Cup That Cheers

The people who are well come and see them sometime, but, of course, we realize that they have no room for us and that we would have to eat out because it exhausts Cousin So-and-So to cook.

I am finding the sucker role unbearably. The people who are well come to the shirt off of my back are those who believe and practice the Biblical injunction: "If any would not work, neither should he eat." I tried shaming the gimmies by using more subtle methods upon them, but I was double-crossed. They took everything they could lay their hands on.

Is there any way that we can protect ourselves against the hold-ups before another summer rolls around?

The Doctor Says:
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

The name "eczema," or dermatitis venenosa, is confined to a definite group of skin conditions caused by something with which the skin has come in contact. It is a true inflammation of the skin; the appearance of eczema may vary all the way from a simple redness to blister formation or even small pus pockets.

At first the trouble is usually restricted to that area of the skin which has come in contact with the substance which caused the irritation. Later it may spread somewhat, though it is usually worst on such parts of the body as the hands, face or legs, which are most often exposed to irritating substances. Burning and itching of the skin is characteristic and at times this can be so severe as to cause other changes of the skin as a result of scratching.

Has Many Causes
Almost anything can cause eczema. Plants are common sources of eczema. One of the most typical examples is common poison ivy. Cases of eczema have been traced to match boxes, to the ink of the comic strips, and to almost every substance used in industry.

The treatment of eczema is aimed at three things: identify the offending substance and take steps to avoid further contact; avoid the use of the skin of preparations which might make the condition worse and, of course, to quiet down the inflammation and bring the skin back to normal as rapidly as possible.

Sometimes finding the cause of eczema is quite difficult, and requires real detective ability. For application to the skin itself, there are a good many soothing preparations which help to relieve the itching and speed nature's recovery.

QUESTION: Could tonsils and adenoids cause deafness or affect the hearing in any way?

ANSWER: Chronic infections of the nose and throat, including the adenoids and tonsils do contribute to impaired hearing. Whether removal of tonsils and adenoids would help the hearing, however, could best be decided after careful examination by a specialist.

Memorial Services for Victim of German Blast
Ludwigshafen, Germany, Aug. 2 —(AP)—This Rhine river city today mourned the victims of the Farben chemical plant explosion at memorial services attended by approximately 10,000 weeping relatives and friends.

The known death toll rose to 189. Rescue workers continued to toil through the wreckage.

Gen. Pierre Koenig, French zone military governor, was accompanied at the ceremony by United States, British, Russian, Yugoslav, Belgian, Dutch and other military representatives.

Referring to the victims, Koenig said: "They were soldiers who died—soldiers of work."

The ceremony centered around a cross 12-feet high in the center of the city's main square.

A French plane director, referring to rumors that the plant had been making volatile fluid for V-2 weapons, told the gathering: "It is necessary to state that these workers were not killed by any war product."

Important Data on Pickles
Vegetable pickles should be firm and clear with an even color throughout and no white or cloudy spots, explains Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine Blackwood. They can be sweet or sour, with the tang of dill or other spices.

Pickles are made by two processes—the long process or fermentation and the quick process. Fermentation is the process used by commercial picklers. It gives a superior product in quality and appearance. In this process the vegetables are cured in brine for several weeks before they are made into pickles.

In the quick process vegetables are usually sliced and packed in brine overnight before they are pickled.

Always use pure salt for pickles (the kind used for curing meat) if it is available, suggests home demonstration agent. If brining with table salt, use one and one-half times the amount called for in the recipe.

Use a good clear vinegar free from sediment—either vinegar for flavor and aroma and white vinegar when a clear, light color is important. Vinegars are stronger than they were 15 years ago, and sometimes a recipe made by old recipes are too tart.

Whole spices are best for most cooked pickles. They keep flavor longer. Ground spices may darken pickles, as will whole spices if packed with the pickles. It is best to use a spice bag and lift it out before the pickles are packed.

Cucumbers and tomatoes are best when pickles are put to cure because they will put up the fruit for longer than 24 hours after they are pickled.

For cooked pickles use enamel, or stainless steel. Do not use copper or galvanized pans. The acid in the vinegar may form a harmful substance.

Preserving Peaches Is Order of Day
While peaches are plentiful and the price is right, many housewives are busy putting up the fruit for winter use, asserts Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine Blackwood.

Whether peaches are frozen, canned, dried, or pickled, they will be a welcome addition to winter meals. And peach preserves, jams, and jellies will help carry the peach season into cold weather.

Peaches to be preserved should be carefully selected, advises the home demonstration agent. Good peaches are fairly firm, but ripe. A very green peach may not mean a ripe peach. It may be a yellow or yellow-green.

Even though peaches are carefully selected, better products will result if they are sorted.

For canning and freezing use a clean, sterilized jar. When they are packed, use a clean, sterilized jar.

For freezing, use jars that make airtight seals. Do not use over-size jars. The good for making peaches, jams, jellies, and preserves.

DOROTHY DIX Harvest Headaches

Dear Miss Dix: The season is again at hand when the city folk get their living by tilling the soil, are descended upon by our city cousins who visit us once a year at harvest time. The rest of the year when there is ground to be plowed, planted to be done, weeds pulled, heat and dust to be endured, no cousins are in sight.

But as the fruit and vegetables upon our relatives appear upon the scene with all sorts of cartons, boxes and pans that they have brought along in their cars.

Also, they are full of affection for us and of praise for our beautiful vegetables. And when these charming chisels have loaded down their cars and are ready to depart, they say that we must come and see them sometime, but, of course, we realize that they have no room for us and that we would have to eat out because it exhausts Cousin So-and-So to cook.

QUESTION: Could tonsils and adenoids cause deafness or affect the hearing in any way?

ANSWER: Chronic infections of the nose and throat, including the adenoids and tonsils do contribute to impaired hearing. Whether removal of tonsils and adenoids would help the hearing, however, could best be decided after careful examination by a specialist.

Memorial Services for Victim of German Blast
Ludwigshafen, Germany, Aug. 2 —(AP)—This Rhine river city today mourned the victims of the Farben chemical plant explosion at memorial services attended by approximately 10,000 weeping relatives and friends.

The known death toll rose to 189. Rescue workers continued to toil through the wreckage.

Gen. Pierre Koenig, French zone military governor, was accompanied at the ceremony by United States, British, Russian, Yugoslav, Belgian, Dutch and other military representatives.

Referring to the victims, Koenig said: "They were soldiers who died—soldiers of work."

The ceremony centered around a cross 12-feet high in the center of the city's main square.

A French plane director, referring to rumors that the plant had been making volatile fluid for V-2 weapons, told the gathering: "It is necessary to state that these workers were not killed by any war product."

His Book Still Used
Five hundred years before the birth of Christ, Hippocrates, a Greek, wrote a book on medical science which still is studied by students throughout the world.

Tackett's Opponent for Congress Withdraws

Fort Smith, Aug. 2 —(AP)—Ray Blair of Paris has withdrawn from the Aug. 10 Democratic runoff as a candidate for Congress from the Fourth District, says radio station KWHM.

Blair was second to Boyd Tackett of Nashville, who lacked only approximately 700 votes for a clear majority.

The withdrawal assures Tackett of the nomination to succeed Rep. Fazio Cravens of Fort Smith, who is retiring.

Blair wired Democratic State Committee Chairman Harvey G. Combs, Little Rock:

"I am definitely out of the race for Congress. I do not care to have my name appear on the ticket."

Farmer Makes a Beachhead in a Wheat Field

Billy Koelsch, St. John, Kan., wheat farmer, hitched his combine to a war surplus landing barge when heavy rains made his fields too muddy for ordinary tractors. Koelsch's ingenuity saved his wheat crop, which yielded about 30 bushels to the acre. With regular equipment, he would have had to wait another week before he could harvest.

Tommy Thompson, 4, of New Britain, Conn., wears a sailor's uniform, but doesn't share the general feeling among seafaring men about women. He still thinks this is a man's world. The object of his disdain is 6-year-old Ruth Swanson of Brooklyn, N. Y. Ruth was sailing on the S. S. Gripsholm for Sweden, and Tommy was seeing some friends off.

Finds Treasure after 49 Years

Remedios, N.Y., —(AP)—Just 49 years ago, when the word came through that Eleanor's husband was in one of the lucky capsules at the land drawing.

They borrowed money for a new tractor, a plow, and enough barley to seed the entire farm.

Money Change Gives Boost to Germany

Berlin, Aug. 2 — (UP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay reported today that currency reform in Western Germany, inaugurated June 20, has boosted ration levels and industry to new postwar highs.

Clay's July report to Washington the most optimistic he has yet made, indicated, had an electrifying effect on industry. Production and labor efficiency improved and absenteeism declined during the month.

Deliveries of meat, always the shortest item in Western Germany, trebled in the first week after currency reform, Clay's report said.

The normal consumers daily ration in the combined Anglo-American zones rose to 1,990 calories in July compared to an average of 1,450 over the past year.

The August ration has been set at 1,755 calories daily, just short of the 1,800 calorie target set by the British and Americans for this fall.

Clay said the potato ration was raised to the unprecedented level of 20,000 grams, or about 44 pounds, for the month.

Crop outlooks are good despite 25 straight days of rain in late June and early July, Clay said. With a short spell of dry weather, the harvests will be heavy in wheat and rye.

Coal production rose to 79 per cent of the 1938 base period. Other postwar highs were made in iron and steel, vehicles, building materials and pulp and paper products.

Kraftmen Need Single Game in Playoff

Camden, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Southern Kraftmen and the Bonanza team move their play-off for the Arkansas semi-pro baseball championship to Fort Smith with the Kraftmen needing only one more victory to clinch the title.

The series will be resumed Friday night.

Aided by Bonanza errors, the Kraftmen yesterday won 4-3 in the second game of the scheduled best three of five series. They won the first game Saturday night.

The Kraftmen represent the state's Southern district; Bonanza the Northern.

Bernadotte to Investigate Truce Violations

Jerusalem, Aug. 2 —(UP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in the Palestine war, arrives here today to investigate truce violations, complaints from both Arabs and Jews.

He also will attempt to settle the status of Jerusalem, now in possession of both the Jews and Arabs, the former holding the modern section.

Dispatches from Tel Aviv said apprehension was growing in Israel that the current truce—now two weeks old—may be the shortest of the war.

Jewish sources claimed three Egyptian planes bombed Gath last week, and committed other truce violations. Unobservers were dispatched to the scenes of the alleged violations.

The barley crop was good, and the harvest pulled the Boles out of debt. This year they start with a lean state.

The barnyard buildings that came with the land still provide a home, a chicken house and a machine shed.

A small white pig who lives in an old vinegar barrel will be bacon, lard and meat next winter.

Young chickens just feathering out will provide more eggs later.

A dozen raspberry twigs shoot leaves in the garden.

There is a new washing machine in the kitchen.

Eleanor sums it up:

"It just couldn't happen any where else except in America."
